

REFERENCES

- Adler, A. (1996). What is Neurosis? International Journal of Individual Psychology, 52(4), 318-333.
- American Psychiatric Association. (1994) Diagnostic and statistical manual of mental disorders.(4th ed.). Washington, D.C: Author.
- Ansbacher, H. (2004). Adler – Psychotherapy and Freud. Individual Psychology, 60(4), 333-337.
- Ansbacher, H.L. & Ansbacher, R.R. (Eds.) (1956) The Individual Psychology of Alfred Adler: A systematic presentation in selections from his writings. New York: Basic Books.
- Corsini, R.J. (Ed.) (1984) Current psychotherapies. Itsaca: F.E. Peacock Publishers.
- Dinkmeyer,D. & McKay,G. (1982) The Parent’s Handbook: Systemic Training for Effective Parenting. Circle Pines: American Guidance Service
- Hirschfeld, R. et. al.(2003). Screening for bipolar disorder in the community. J. Clin. Psychiatry, 64(1), 53-59.
- Longo, L. and Bohn, M. (2001) Alcoholism pharmacotherapy: New approaches to an old disease. Hospital Physician, June 2001, 33-43.
- Pevin, D. & Shulman, B. (1983) The psychodynamics of bipolar affective disorder: Some empirical findings and their implications for cognitive therapy. Individual Psychology, 39, 2-16.
- Prinz, J. (1993) Alcoholics and their treatment: Current Adlerian thinking. Individual Psychology,49, 94-105.
- Shulman, B. and Mosak, H.(1988) Manual for Life Style Assessment. Muncie: Accelerated Development.
- Sperry, L. & Carlson, J. (Eds.) (1996) Psychopathology and psychotherapy: From DSM- IV diagnosis to treatment (2nd ed.). Washington, D.C.: Accelerated Development.
- Stotland Cohen, M. & Mozdierz, G. (2003). In the moods: when bipolar disorder and substance dependence intersect. Dollard des Ormeaux, Keren Chai Publishing.
- Weiss, R. (1999) MDDA Lecture Series: Mood Disorders and Substance Abuse <http://www.mddaboston.org/Lect042899.html>
- Westermeyer, J., Ziedonis, D. & Weiss, R. (Eds.) (2003) Integrated treatment of mood and substance use disorders. Baltimore: John’s Hopkins University Press.